Creative and highly skilled filmmaker with over 13 years of experience specializing in documentary and promotional films. Creative and flexible, with the ability to infuse cinematic storytelling and technical expertise into every project. Produces, directs, writes, shoots, lights, edits, and designs motion graphics to create compelling video content. A self-starter and problem solver, also highly skilled in social media and corporate branding. Effective communicator, adaptable, and equally comfortable as a team leader or team player with a focus on telling excellent stories.

PROFESSIONAL EXPERIENCE

Finley Holiday Films — Editor/Director/Cinematographer

April 2007 - PRESENT

- Produce state-of-the-art documentary videos for National Parks and public lands by providing technical guidance on current and upcoming technology, solving production problems, and teaching functionality of new equipment.
- Write, direct, shoot, light, record/mix audio, edit, and create motion graphics for videos to promote client brands and further their missions.
- I take pride in my video production level and this is reflected in the quality and volume of commercial content that Finley Holiday produces for regular clients like the National Park Service, the BLM, and other organizations.
- Recent projects have a versatile range from successful social media campaigns to historical legacies to theater films playing hourly in visitor centers at Red Rock Canyon National Conservation Area and Moab, Utah.

WebSerials.com — Co-founder

June 2006 - September 2011

- Directed and managed video series through online marketing and social media, reaching over 6 million viewers worldwide.
- Developed 10 productions for online release, averaging 50,000 viewers per month. Hailed by YouTube as "The best dramas the web has to offer."
- Films were #1 watched and rated videos on YouTube and Hulu.
